

Redfern Waterloo Preliminary Masterplan

Since the Planning Expo in August last year we have been actively engaging residents and other stakeholders in Redfern and Waterloo to collect local input for the preliminary masterplan.

According to our records you have been involved or expressed interest in the preliminary masterplan or the future of the area.

We are writing to you now to invite you to let us know what you have thought of the engagement program. Your input will assist us to continue to improve our engagement for future phases of our work in Redfern and Waterloo.

Please fill in the questionnaire below and return it to the Redfern and Waterloo Preliminary Masterplanning Project team at redfernwaterloo@FACS.nsw.gov.au or by mail to:

In the community engagement plan we made a commitment to some core principles. We would like to know how well we have lived up to them. We said: “Community engagement in the Redfern Waterloo preliminary master planning process will”:

- Provide opportunities for stakeholders to comment on the community engagement plan and influence processes and activities.

Very poor	Poor	Average	Good	Very good

- Provide significant opportunities for all residents and stakeholders to have an input to the masterplan, at a number of points in the process.

Very poor	Poor	Average	Good	Very good

- Engagement processes and activities are designed to maximise input by all population groups, including harder-to-reach groups, and suit a wide variety of preferences about how to participate.

Very poor	Poor	Average	Good	Very good

- Community views will be valued and will have an influence on the plan.

Very poor	Poor	Average	Good	Very good

- Build the capacity of the community to better understand the masterplan processes and design concepts, so that the value of their input is optimised.
